Working with the community

Usability research

Conducted with instructors in cooperation with the Leganto 2020-2021 usability focus group.

Enhancement requests

Enhancement requests and ideas from Idea Exchange incorporated in the redesign.

New Focus group

Establishing a new usability focus group for the redesign process.

The group will include both instructors or other teaching and learning stakeholders and librarians.

Easy transition

Time to prepare:

The new UI will be released during H1 2023

Gradual deployment:

Both versions will coexist for 9 months

- Test the new UI while the previous UI still exists
- Move to the new UI during academic break

Communication

Early updates to the community in emails and webinars

Training:

- Ex Libris will provide training and supporting materials for the new UI

Experience in the learning management system (LMS)

Today

Similar experience:

- Leganto standalone version
- Leganto embedded in the LMS

New user experience

Embedded in the LMS – experience adapted to the context of the course

Standalone – broader context,
full functionality

Experience in the learning management system (LMS)

The screenshot displays the Ex Libris LMS interface for the course 'EDU 103 > Principles of Education'. On the left is a dark sidebar with navigation icons and labels: Home, Account, Dashboard, Courses, Calendar, Inbox, and History. The main content area has a top navigation bar with the course title and options to manage sections, filter, and search. Below this, a section titled 'Section 1: History and Theories' is shown, containing a list of course materials. The first material is 'Nursing diagnosis handbook : an evidence-based guide to planning care' by Ackley, B. J.; L., Ackley, B. J., Ladwig, G. B., & Makic, M. B. F. (2015). The interface includes a 'Lecture reading' tag and a 'Purchase' button for this material. A note specifies that this book will be used as an introduction to the course.

The top menu of Leganto will not be presented in the embedded mode

The screenshot displays the ExLibris Leganto LMS interface. At the top, a dark teal header bar contains the ExLibris logo, a hamburger menu icon, and several utility icons including a share icon, a question mark, and notification icons with red counts of 1 and 2. Below this, the main content area is titled 'EDU 103 > Principles of Education'. On the left, a dark sidebar lists navigation options: Account, Dashboard, Courses (highlighted), Calendar, Inbox, and History. The main content area has a sub-header 'Principles of Education' with a purple 'EDU 103 (2021-22)' tag and a 'More info' link. Below this, there are tabs for 'Manage Sections', 'Filter', and 'Search'. The main content shows 'Section 1: History and Theories (Citation: 14, Pages: 52)' with a description: 'Determining price and value; BATNA: zone of agreement; focal point; the canonical distributive bargaining case'. Underneath, there is a 'Lecture reading' section featuring a book cover and the title 'Nursing diagnosis handbook : an evidence-based guide to planning care' by Ackley, B. J. ; L., Ackley, B. J., Ladwig, G. B., & Makic, M. B. F. (2015). A note states: 'Note: We will use this book as an introduction to the course as a whole. As you read, pay attention to the information presented in the first chapter'. At the bottom, there is a 'Book - Due: Jul 28, 2021' section with 'Lecture reading' and 'Purchase' links. An orange line points from the 'More info' link in the sub-header to the top header bar, indicating that the top menu is not presented in the embedded mode.

Security, accessibility, and performance

Today

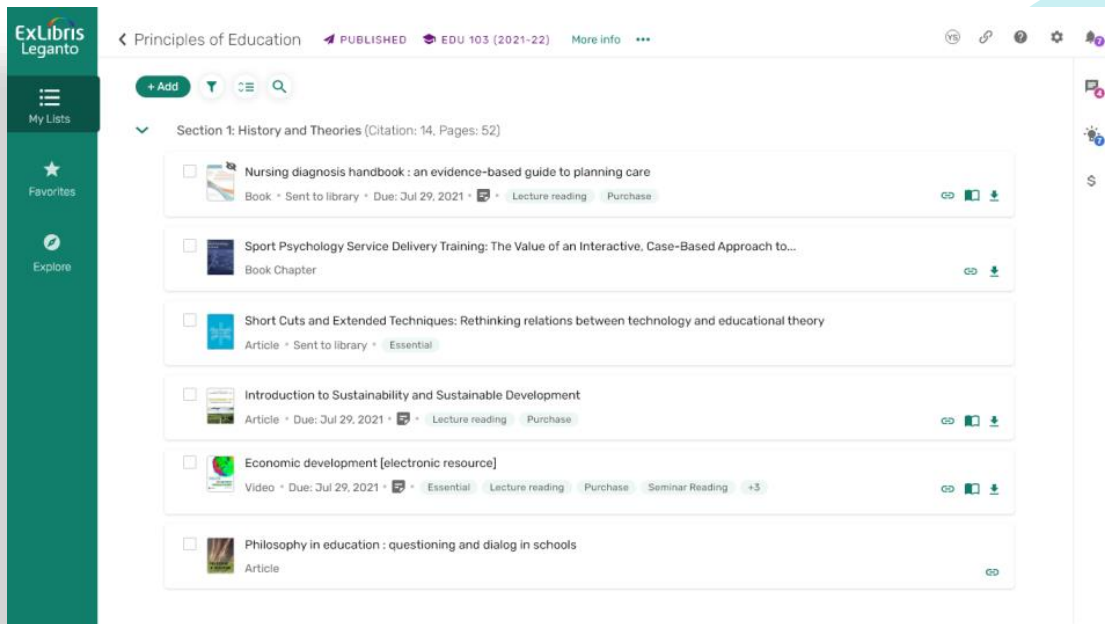

- Leganto uses web application framework Angular JS
- Angular JS is a significantly different technology than other Angular versions
- An upgrade is recommended by Google that leads the Angular open-source framework

New user experience

- Advanced technology - Angular 13
- Capable of receiving future security updates for Angular
- Enhanced accessibility and performance

What's next?

- The new UI will be released during H1 2023
- Together with the PWG, we are now establishing a new usability focus group for the redesign process.
- We will keep you informed as the project progress
